How long, O LORD?

and have sorrow in my heart all the day?

How long will my enemy be exalted over me?

Why are you so far from saving me,
from the words of my groaning?*

O Lord, will
you look on?
Rescue me
from their
destruction,
my precious
life from the lions!*

O God, is the
foe to scoff?
Is the enemy
to revile
your name
forever?*

O LORD?
How long?
Have pity
on your servants!*

light up my eyes, lest I sleep the sleep of death,
lest my enemy say, "I have prevailed over him," lest my foes rejoice because I am shaken.*

“The sympathy of Jesus is the next most precious thing to his sacrifice.”

light up my eyes, lest I sleep the sleep of death,

the people
who know the
festal shout,
who walk,
O LORD, in
the light of
your face*

*For with you is the fountain
of life;
in your light do we see light.*

my heart shall rejoice in your salvation.
I will sing to the LORD,
because he has dealt bountifully with me.*

— vv 5-6

“What’s so marvelously powerful about lament is that it goes as deep into the pain as it does into the promise. And it unites them together. And that becomes the fuel for endurance.
